

OLIVER OSBORNE AT OLD TRICKS AGAIN

Reappears in Broadway
Long Enough for Woman to Have Him Arrested.

SHE NETTED HIM $500

He Then Jumped His Bail and Now Police Are Seeking His Trail.

U. S. ALSO AFTER HIM

Man of Many Names Won Notorious in the Rae Tanzer Case.

Oliver Osborne, of Ray Tanzer fame, has been hitting the hot spots of Broadway again. He has been on parade in the white light district, at the Polo Grounds and at the nearby seashore resorts and, as in his previous escapades, his attentions to certain women have proved profitable.

At least one young woman, whose identity is being guarded by the authorities, suffered a loss of $500. Just now the police and Federal authorities are seeking Osborne, or Charles Canby, under which cloak he conducted his recent operations, for jumping his bail on a larceny charge preferred by his latest victim.

The revelation that Oliver Osborne, alias Canby, alias Charles H. Wax, was again operating along Broadway came yesterday, when detectives went to the Post Office authorities and asked them if by any chance they knew a Charles Canby who posed as a relative of Gen. Canby, who was ambushed and slain years ago by Modoc Indians. The Post Office inspectors informed the detectives that Canby and Oliver Osborne were one and the same person. It was then that details of the heart crusher's most recent peculations became known.

As best the police have been able to learn, Osborne, or Canby, first appeared on Broadway several weeks ago. The time of his meeting with the latest victim is placed tentatively at "a few weeks ago." Just where he met her was not revealed, but it was made known that he posed as a Western business man temporarily short of funds. He succeeded in gaining the confidence of the young woman and emptied her purse to the extent of $500. Then she had him arrested.

Just how Osborne evaded identification in the "lineup" at Police Headquarters remains a mystery. But he did, and when taken to the Magistrate's court made such an impression on the court that he was released on $1,000 bail. He appeared in court three or four times, but succeeded always in having his case adjourned. When it finally was called for trial Canby did not appear and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

According to available local records Osborne-Wax-Canby should still be serving a term in an Oregon prison, but for some reason, said to be a desire to visit his mother in the upper part of this state, he was released by a parole board. The Federal authorities were notified by the board of the release of Canby with the result that operatives since have been on the lookout for him. Post Office Inspector Howard B. Mayhew and William G. Swain, who chased Oliver Osborne all over the country when he was being sought in the Ray Tanzer case, learned he had visited the Polo Grounds. Inspector Swain located him there disguised as a fan, and Canby, in dodging the inspector, is said to have enriched himself by a large roll of greenbacks extracted from a roofer's hip pocket.

The next heard of him was that he had visited the office of a lawyer in lower Broadway. Canby confided to this lawyer the fact he had been arrested but said he expected to "beat the case," because the police had not recognized him. If he were successful, he told the lawyer, he was going to leave New York and go to St. Louis with a "rich" widow. Canby did not reveal the woman's name, so far as the detectives have been able to ascertain.

Canby, or Osborne, was surrendered to the Oregon authorities to serve out a term interrupted by a jail breaking exploit in December, 1919, when Judge John C. Knox vacated the indictment against Ray Tanzer, which was an outgrowth of her breach of promise suit against the late James W. Osborne, the celebrated criminal lawyer.

Wax, by which name he then was known, was the chief Government witness to clear Mr. Osborne and with the nullifying of the indictment he was no longer needed by the authorities here. The charges against Miss Tanzer were that she had used the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud. She had asked $50,000 damages in the suit against Mr. Osborne and it was the first time an indictment was brought against the plaintiff in such an action in the Federal District Court. The case was tried in 1916 and again in 1917, but on both occasions the jury disagreed. Then Wax was located and swore he was the Oliver Osborne who had made love to Miss Tanzer and not the lawyer, yer.

WOMAN MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT.
While walking in East Twenty-ninth street, near Second avenue, yesterday afternoon Rose Molink, 42, of 238 East Twenty-ninth street, was shot in the left forearm. It is not known by whom or from what direction the shot was fired. The woman called for help after being attended by Dr. Reginokopf of Bellevue Hospital.

SPECIAL—OPEN LABOR DAY UNTIL 2 P. M.—SPECIAL WE SELL CIGARS CHEAPER THAN ANY CONCERN IN THE U. S. TREMENDOUS SALE OF CIGARS CIGARS

We are commissioned to close out three million cigars held by several banks at the best price possible. We can get for them, as well as the output of our 20 factories, who need cash at once, and if you will call or mail your orders immediately we will save you about half or 50% on all your purchases. Drop everything and call at once.

Here Are Our Wonderful Cigar Bargains Below:

100 Long Filled, Hand Made, Extra Large Standard Advertised Brand, $2.50
50 GOLD CIGARS, $1.25
50 CLUB HOUSE CIGARS, $1.25
50 IMPORTED ALFONSO, $1.25
50 SPECIAL, GENUINE 15c CIGARS, $2.95

In this tremendous lot of cigars we have some small lots, comprising only 50 or 100 each which I will sell you at once, as well as the output of our 20 factories, who need cash at once, and if you will call or mail your orders immediately we will save you about half or 50% on all your purchases. Drop everything and call at once.

WALTER M. SMITH, 17 West 42d St., N. Y. City. Bet 5th-6th Ave.
1 Flight Up. Open Daily and Saturday. Mail Orders and Receipts Free.

Agencies wanted everywhere. Dealers' opportunity to buy good cigars cheap for cash.

Daily Calendar THE WEATHER.

For Eastern New York—Partly cloudy and cooler to-day; to-morrow probably showers; moderate variable winds.
For New England—Partly cloudy to-morrow; showers to-day and probably to-morrow; no change in temperature; gentle to moderate variable winds.
For Northern New England—Partly cloudy and cooler to-day; to-morrow probably showers; moderate variable winds.
For Southern New England—Partly cloudy and cooler to-day; to-morrow probably showers; moderate variable winds.
For Western New York—Local thunder showers to-day; to-morrow fair, with somewhat lower temperature; moderate variable winds.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Pressure is falling slowly but generally in the Atlantic States and the pressure is low and falling in the plains States and the upper Mississippi Valley. An extensive area of high barometer is spreading eastward from the Pacific coast and it has already reached the Rocky Mountain region.
Temperatures above normal continue generally east of the Rocky Mountains, particularly in the plains States. The central Mississippi Valley and the middle Atlantic States are in the grip of a cold front. The temperature has become somewhat lower along the northern border from Lake Superior eastward to Maine and much lower over the northern Rocky Mountain and northern plains regions and the western Canadian provinces.
Local thunderstorms within the last 24 hours in the middle Atlantic and New England States, the Ohio, upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys, the region of the great lakes and the Northwest. In New England and eastern New York the weather will be partly cloudy with somewhat lower temperature to-morrow and unsettled, with showers. In the middle Atlantic States the weather will be unsettled, with local thunder showers to-morrow and Monday. In the region of the great lakes and the Ohio Valley there will be showers to-morrow and clearing and cooler weather Monday. In the south Atlantic and east Gulf States the weather will be generally fair and warm to-morrow and Monday, but with widely scattered local thunder showers.

Observations at United States Weather Bureau station at New York, N. Y., yesterday, seventy-fifth meridian time:

Stations	High	Low	Bar	Wind	Temp	Rel. Hum.	Clouds
Athens	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Baltimore	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Boston	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Buffalo	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Chicago	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Cincinnati	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Cleveland	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Denver	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Detroit	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Galveston	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Havana	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Indianapolis	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Kansas City	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Los Angeles	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Memphis	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Minneapolis	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Mobile	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Montreal	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
New Orleans	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
New York	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Philadelphia	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Pittsburgh	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Portland, Me.	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Portland, Ore.	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
San Antonio	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
San Diego	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
San Francisco	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Seattle	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
St. Louis	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
St. Paul	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77
Washington	86	76	29.78	Clear	80	71	77

LOCAL WEATHER RECORDS.
S. P. M. S. P. M.
Barometer..... 29.91 29.88
Temperature..... 80 71
Wind-direction..... W W
Wind-velocity..... 10 10
Precipitation..... 0.00 0.00

The temperature in this city yesterday, as recorded by the official thermometer, is shown in the annexed table:

8 A. M.	75	1 P. M.	87	8 P. M.	77
9 A. M.	78	2 P. M.	88	7 P. M.	77
10 A. M.	82	3 P. M.	90	6 P. M.	77
11 A. M.	86	4 P. M.	94	5 P. M.	78
12 M.	88	5 P. M.	97	10 P. M.	77
1021.	1020	1020	1021.	1020.
8 A. M.	78	59	8 P. M.	75	70
12 M.	88	88	9 P. M.	78	67
3 P. M.	90	71	12 Mid.	71	66
Lowest temperature, 72, at 7 A. M.
Average temperature, 82.

EVENTS TO-DAY.

Illustrated lecture by Dr. W. A. Murrill on "The Classification of Plants," Museum Building, New York Botanical Garden, Bronx Park, 4 P. M.

Hall of Fame, New York University, University Heights, open to the public, 2 to 6 P. M.

National Grand Lodge, Ancient Order of Good Fellows, meeting, Mannerheim Hall, 203 East Fifty-sixth street, 9 A. M.

ROLL UP STOCKINGS?
NO! NOT EVEN IN JAIL

Boardwalk Girl Will Take Fight to Supreme Court.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 3.—It is none of Atlantic City's business whether she wears her stockings the ordinary way or rolled down to her ankles, declares Miss Louise Rosine, of Los Angeles, who says she is a novelist. From her cell in the City Jail to-night she announced she would carry that point to the United States Supreme Court if necessary. She intends to make a test case of her arrest, for failing to comply with the beach regulation as to hose.

Miss Rosine appeared on the stand at Virginia avenue this morning with her hose rolled below her knees. Patrolman Shaw informed her that women sans hose are taboo on the beach and he directed her to roll her stockings up again.

"I certainly will not roll them up," retorted Miss Rosine. "The city has no right to tell me how I shall wear my stockings. It is none of the city's business. I will go to jail first."

So Miss Rosine was about to be escorted to jail when she gave the policeman such a tussle that it became necessary for him to blow his whistle and summon several life guards. Miss Rosine, he alleges, swung a right at him. His sun glasses fell and broke. They put the young woman in the patrol wagon and locked her up. Patrolman Shaw preferred a charge of assault and battery against her in addition to the disorderly conduct charge growing out of the stocking dispute.

WIFE KILLED BY TRAIN.

Mrs. Constance White, 30, wife of George White, freight agent at Manamoochee, was killed by a New Haven express train yesterday while talking with her husband, who was across the tracks from her. He thought she had gotten out of danger until the train passed and he found her body.

MRS. AUDITORE SUES RIVAL FOR $100,000

Accuses Mrs. Catanzaro of Winning Affections of Her Husband.

Mrs. Louise Auditore, of 137 Coleridge street, Manhattan Beach, began suit against Mrs. Elva Catanzaro of 2321 Avenue M, Flatbush, in the Brooklyn Supreme Court yesterday for $100,000 damages, alleging alienation of the affections of Frank Auditore, wealthy contractor and brother of James Auditore, the "millionaire stevedore."

The Auditores were married on November 1, 1902, and for several years, according to the papers filed, lived in the same house with Mrs. Catanzaro and her husband, Joseph, at 129 Windsor place, Brooklyn. Catanzaro is in the steamship business. The families were friendly.

The Catanzaros moved away. It is alleged that at various times between January 1, 1909 and August 30, 1921, Mrs. Catanzaro has "wilfully, wickedly and maliciously gained the affections of said Frank Auditore."

It is alleged she sought to persuade him to go to Naples, Italy, with her. Mrs. Auditore, in her own affidavit, stated that whenever her husband took her to theatres, dances or dinners "the defendant herein was also included in the parties."

In January last, said Mrs. Auditore, Mrs. Catanzaro went to Boston for several days. At the same time Auditore "left for a pretended trip to Canada for business." It is Mrs. Auditore's belief he did not go to Canada, but stopped in Boston in the Copely-Plaza Hotel.

Mrs. Auditore added that her husband called on Mrs. Catanzaro in her Avenue M home in the absence of her husband and also met her in 1712 Elm avenue, Brooklyn, the home of her sister.

Mrs. Auditore said her husband was wealthy and gave Mrs. Catanzaro automobiles and large sums of money. He had two machines of his own, said the plaintiff, in the use of which Mrs. Catanzaro had the preference.

When Mrs. Catanzaro told Mrs. Auditore that "she was going to leave her husband and go to Europe and remain there indefinitely," Mrs. Auditore obtained from Justice MacCraty an order for her (the defendant's) arrest.

Mrs. Auditore said she learned that Mrs. Catanzaro intended to leave here on the Helgoland of the Scandinavian-American Steamship Line, go to Denmark, and from there to Italy. It was Mrs. Auditore's information that her alleged rival had converted all of her assets into money for the purpose.

A man who said he was Joseph Catanzaro, the defendant's husband, said over the telephone yesterday that Mrs. Auditore "must be out of her head to bring such an action. Some one advised her to spend a lot of money for nothing. We are all old friends and there is absolutely no ground for this suit. My wife and I are living happily together. Mrs. Auditore has made a great mistake. Why, we were all together three weeks ago."

SOUTHAMPTON SUFFERS
ANOTHER GEM THEFT

Another diamond theft was reported at Southampton yesterday—the loss of a diamond ring and two diamond bracelets, heirlooms in the family of Howard C. Dickinson, which were taken during the four days following the death on August 11 of Mrs. Anna Wagstaff Dickinson, Mr. Dickinson's mother.

Mr. Dickinson's mother, the jewels had an intrinsic value of about $5,000, but their sentimental value was much higher because they had been in the family for years.

The theft came known through efforts of the police to trace the jewelry through pawnshops and fences. Like the other jewel thefts that have taken place recently, the police had made an effort to hush it up.

The jewels were in Mrs. Dickinson's jewel box in her wardrobe, and why they were selected in preference to equally valuable jewels that were left, and why the whole was not taken, are among the mysteries to which the police have found no solution. Apparently the household preoccupation caused by Mrs. Dickinson's death and the preparations for her funeral gave the thief needed opportunity.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

RAINBOW MEN TO HAVE OUTING

The second annual moonlight sail of the Rainbow Division, Veterans Association, old Sixty-ninth Infantry, will be held next Friday evening. The excursion, named Mandalay has been chartered. All wounded members of the regiment will be guests of the committee, which consists of William Kennedy, chairman; the Rev. Francis P. Duffy, vice-chairman; Joseph D. Ward, treasurer, and John P. Murphy, secretary.

INTERBOROUGH SUE OVER $25,000 NOTES

Continental Securities and
General Investment Firms
Demand Judgment.

Clarence H. Verner, as president of the Continental Securities Company of Jersey City and the General Investments Company, filed a suit for $25,000 against the Interborough Rapid Transit Company yesterday in Supreme Court.

The Continental Securities Company alleges that the amount sued for is due to it for twenty-three-year notes, dated September 1, 1918, and bearing interest at 7 per cent. These notes are for $1,000 each. The General Investments Company claims an indebtedness based on five such notes.

The plaintiffs do not ask for a reletting of the notes as was done last Monday in the Federal Court by the Continental Securities Company. The attorney for the plaintiffs, however, said that if his client gets judgment against the Interborough he will call on the Sheriff to seize the property of the company to satisfy the judgment.

As disclosed in the recent receivership applications in the Federal court, the Interborough did not pay the notes last Thursday when they came due. Judge Mayer of the United States District Court, postponed action in the matter until next Friday to give the Interborough an opportunity to have the notes extended for a year.

RAINBOW MEN TO HAVE OUTING

The second annual moonlight sail of the Rainbow Division, Veterans Association, old Sixty-ninth Infantry, will be held next Friday evening. The excursion, named Mandalay has been chartered. All wounded members of the regiment will be guests of the committee, which consists of William Kennedy, chairman; the Rev. Francis P. Duffy, vice-chairman; Joseph D. Ward, treasurer, and John P. Murphy, secretary.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

RAINBOW MEN TO HAVE OUTING

The second annual moonlight sail of the Rainbow Division, Veterans Association, old Sixty-ninth Infantry, will be held next Friday evening. The excursion, named Mandalay has been chartered. All wounded members of the regiment will be guests of the committee, which consists of William Kennedy, chairman; the Rev. Francis P. Duffy, vice-chairman; Joseph D. Ward, treasurer, and John P. Murphy, secretary.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

The two bracelets contained each more than thirty diamonds, and the ring was set with a large stone. One of the bracelets had a flexible setting. They were known to have been in the jewel box during Mrs. Dickinson's illness.

INTERBOROUGH SUE OVER $25,000 NOTES

Continental Securities and
General Investment Firms
Demand Judgment.

Clarence H. Verner, as president of the Continental Securities Company of Jersey City and the General Investments Company, filed a suit for $25,000 against the Interborough Rapid Transit Company yesterday in Supreme Court.

The Continental Securities Company alleges that the amount sued for is due to it for twenty-three-year notes, dated September 1, 1918, and bearing interest at 7 per cent. These notes are for $1,000 each. The General Investments Company claims an indebtedness based on five such notes.

The plaintiffs do not ask for a reletting of the notes as was done last Monday in the Federal Court by the Continental Securities Company. The attorney for the plaintiffs, however, said that if his client gets judgment against the Interborough he will call on the Sheriff to seize the property of the company to satisfy the judgment.

As disclosed in the recent receivership applications in the Federal court, the Interborough did not pay the notes last Thursday when they came due. Judge Mayer of the United States District Court, postponed action in the matter until next Friday to give the Interborough an opportunity to have the notes extended for a year.

RAINBOW MEN TO HAVE OUTING